

A transmedia series by Jean-Christophe ESTABLET

They're invisible but angels are around us wherever we go. Most of the time, we could simply reach out and touch them, if only we realized they were there. Shot like a fly-on-the-wall documentary, Angels is a comedy following René and Jennifer – two angels who work in a small community in Zone 138, Paris – going about their daily lives.

Genre

FICTION / TV series, ARG , Websites and Online Game

Concept

Set in Paris and its suburbs, the series — shot in a highly realistic tone — is a blend of absurd, poetic and amusing situations, featuring unforgettable, distinctive characters. The series, the game, the Websites and the 'happenings' render the angels accessible and almost real. With its simultaneously down-to-earth and surreal approach, Angels makes reality better than ever.

Author & director

Jean-Christophe ESTABLET

Tv series

13 x 26' episodes

HD – French

ARG, website and online game

Project stage

Development

Element available

Bible

Synopsis for the TV Series

Transmedia map defining the various stages of the ARG

Contact

sandrine.girbal@happyfannie.com